

The Gliding Centre (TGC) CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

The Gliding Centre (TGC) Child Protection Policy

This is the child protection policy for The Gliding Centre (TGC)

It aims to:

Establish clear lines of communication for any child protection issue.

Avoid confusion for instructors, officials, staff and volunteers.

There is a considerable body of legislation, government guidance and standards designed to ensure that children are safeguarded from harm. These include:

Children Act 1989

Children Act 2004

Protection of Children Act 1999

Human Rights Act 1998

UN Convention on Rights of the Child

Sexual Offences Act 2003

Working Together to Safeguard Children 2010 document by the Department for Children, Schools and Families

Every Child Matters green paper

Everyone who works with or around children, young people and vulnerable adults needs to be aware of the laws that aim to protect children from harm.

Should you have any queries relating to this policy, please contact any of the following:

Policy Statement

The Gliding Centre Duty of Care

The Gliding Centre (TGC) recognises that sport can and does have a very powerful and positive influence on young people. Not only can it provide opportunities for enjoyment and achievement; it can also develop valuable qualities such as self-esteem, leadership and teamwork. These positive effects can only take place if sport is in the right hands – in the hands of those who place the welfare of all young people first and adopt practices that support, protect and empower them.

Most youngsters happily and safely participate in sport under the watchful and concerned care of dedicated instructors and club members. However, the reality is also that abuse does take place in sport and in some cases, members have been convicted. Every adult has a legal and moral responsibility to protect young people and disabled adults in sport from abuse.

The Gliding Centre recognises that we have a duty of care towards young and vulnerable participants and can help to protect them from abuse. (From Guidelines for Governing Bodies of Sport and Local Authorities, Sports Coach UK (NCF), NSPCC.)

The Gliding Centre recognises that for Child Protection purposes, a child refers to any person under the age of 18.

Principles

The Gliding Centre recognises that:

The welfare of young people and vulnerable adults is the primary concern.

All young people, whatever their age, culture, disability, gender, language, racial origin, religious belief and/or sexual identity have the right to protection from abuse.

It is the responsibility of the child protection experts to determine whether or not abuse has taken place but it is everyone's responsibility to report any concerns.

All incidents of suspicious poor practice and allegations should be taken seriously and responded to swiftly and appropriately.

Summary of Partnership Responsibilities

The Gliding Centre:

Accepts the moral and legal responsibility to implement procedures to provide a duty of care for young or otherwise vulnerable people, safeguard their wellbeing and protect them from abuse.

Respects and promotes the rights, wishes and feelings of young people and adults with disabilities or additional needs.

Recruits, trains and supervises its employees and volunteers to adopt best practice to safeguard and protect young people from abuse and themselves against false allegations.

Requires staff and members to adopt and abide by this Child Protection Policy and Good Practice Guidelines. Employed staff should abide by Gliding Centre Gliding Club guidelines.

Responds to allegations appropriately and implement the appropriate disciplinary and appeals procedures.

It is intended that all employees and volunteers working with children, young people and vulnerable adults will receive training to assist them in the recognition of abuse; the referral process; sensible working practices; and to identify 'appointed persons' within the BGA and at club level, whom staff can contact about child protection issues.
